ANNOUNCEMENTS
(Last Update: Sat , July 18th , 2020 @ 3:44 PM EST)

Here's all the ones I'm working on, so please don't request them:
Rainwhisker
Longtail
Sandstorm
Littlecloud
Brackenfur
Spiresight
Onestar
Darktail
Heatherstar
Lightningtail

Additionally, I have many of the Warriors books, but not all of them. That doesn't mean I can't log the deaths of any cats from those, it just means you need to help me out. If you request a death from one of those, OR if a cat's death from this book is clarified in any of these other books, please put a request in on this chapter letting me know what that character's last words are, which book you found them in, and what the context of those words are. IF the words are not directly linked to their death, also tell me how they died.

The following books I do NOT have:

Warriors: Dawn of the Clans #6
Warriors: A Vision of Shadows #1-6
Warriors: A Broken Code #1
Any of the mangas
Warriors Super Edition: Hawkwing's Journey
Warriors Super Edition: Tigerheart's Shadow
Warriors Super Edition: Crowfeather's Trial
The Untold Stories
Tales from the Clans
Shadows of the Clans
Legends of the Clans
Path of a Warrior
Enter the Clans
Warriors: The Ultimate Guide

GRAPHICS REQUEST:
I'm looking for people to make/redo artwork for the following cats:

Hollyleaf
Honeyfern
Snowfur
Tigerstar
Sorreltail (maybe)
Sootfur
Spottedleaf (first death)
Brokenstar (second death, don't have)
Raggedstar
Nightstar (don't have)-

Blackstar (don't have)

These cats are okay, but could be redone:

Firestar
Feathertail
Bluestar
Tallstar (coat accuracy)
Ashfur (maybe)
Mousefur (good color, more depth)
Brindleface (different perspective, no words)
Oakheart

Here's generally what I'm looking for, aka my favorites:

Mosskit
Yellowfang (maybe)
Snowkit
Scourge
Whitestorm (even though there's words)
Spottedleaf (second death)
Flametail (maybe add Jayfeather tho?)
Russetfur
Goldenflower (despite the words)

If you like doing graphics and would be willing to illustrate these cat's deaths, please pm me! The descriptions of their deaths can be found in their respective chapters. I'd prefer if you upload your completed graphics to DeviantArt, but it is not necessary. Also, I like the pictures to have accuracy, good clarity, and preferably no words. Thanks guys!

Redtail

[image]

Now I must point out this first one is from myself. I'm pretty sure it's the first death in the books besides Oakheart. In the future, I'll say, "Sent in by @_____" and dedicate the chapter to you.

"Are RiverClan warriors unable to fight their own battles?"

In Forest of Secrets, we indirectly learn from Ravenpaw Redtail's likely last words. Although Redtail may have said something after this, these are the last words mentioned in the book. Firestar, who was then Fireheart, along with Graystripe went to Ravenpaw in his barn to learn the truth about Redtail's death. For those of you who forgot, Tigerstar, then Tigerclaw, killed him right after the battle with RiverClan in Into the Wild. Personally, I think those are pretty cool last words. I give him a Powerful. How would you rate his last words?

Firestar

"You lived like a rogue. You can die like a rogue."

Yes, for those of you who didn't know, Firestar died. I did say this whole book was one big spoiler alert, didn't I? You'd think that'd be obvious. I mean we're talking about who DIED... Anyways, this is from The Last Hope right before Firestar kills Tigerstar. He dies after Tigerstar does, NOT from his wounds, but from a F*CKING BURNING TREE! Like WHAT THE HELL he already lost ONE life from a falling tree (Warriors: The New Prophecy #3: Dawn, Chapter 14) and now another will take his life? Geezus! FUN FACT: Firestar's death was actually planned by the Erin Hunters months before! But I do admit those are pretty powerful last words. I give Firestar a Powerful for that! How would you rate his last words?

Edit: Apparently the tree didn't actually kill him—his wounds did. But still...

Hollyleaf

Sent in by OneWiththeRain

"It's ok, Leafpool. I don't mind. I'm glad I came back to ThunderClan. I couldn't bear to... to leave without getting to know my mother."

Hollyleaf died in The Last Hope. She was gravely wounded by Hawkfrost when she jumped in front of Ivypool to protect her. Ivypool basically dragged Hollyleaf back from the WindClan camp to ThunderClan where she died surrounded by her loved ones. These are some pretty damn good last words though, so I'll say Touching. How would you rate her last words?

"Good-bye, Graystripe. I love you. Take care of our kits."

OMG NO SILVERSTREAM!!! cries So this was about towards the middle of the second half of Forest of Secrets when Silverstream was giving birth to Stormfur and Feathertail. I really loved Silverstream and these are pretty touching last words, but I'd say Heartbreaking! Go SILVERSTREAM! How would you rate her last words?

Feathertail

"I won't. I'll always be with you, I promise."

Feathertail dies near the end of Moonrise, which is in the second arc. These last words were spoken to Crowpaw- before he was Crowfeather- after she strikes down the stalactite that kills Sharptooth and falls to the cave floor. Crowpaw says to her, "Feathertail... Feathertail, no! Don't leave me." I would review these last words as Touching! Way to go, Feathertail!!!

"It would have made no difference. We cannot change our destiny. We just have to have the courage to know what it is, and accept it. StarClan are waiting for me. Good-bye, Leafpool."

NOOO CINDERPELT!!! crying But dang, these are some good last words! For those of you who didn't know, these words were uttered by Cinderpelt at the end of Sunset after she was attacked by the badger while defending the nursery. As you might be able to tell, they were directed to Leafpool. Little did Leafpool know, this wouldn't be the last time seeing "Cinderpelt" alive... Now how did I structure my rating system? Ah yes, I'd give it a Strong/Touching. Maybe I'll put it under Meaningful...

Mosskit

"Can we go home yet?"

Oh, Mosskit... cries I'm added a new category just for this one: Heartbreaking. She looks so adorable in this picture, doesn't she? She dies in Bluestar's Prophecy, on the way to RiverClan with Bluestar, who was then Bluefur, and her siblings, Mistystar and Stonefur (at the time, Mistykit and Stonekit). Cause of death: hypothermia. At least she had Snowfur, and now Bluestar there in StarClan to look after her.

Honeyfern

"Help me! My blood is on fire! Help me, please! It hurts so much!"

continues sobbing from where I left off with Mosskit Another Heartbreaking one! Especially when Berrynose goes on to say they could have had wonderful kits together... cries some more... Anyways, Honeyfern dies in Sunrise, not Sunset, mind you. Sunset is the last book in The New Prophecy arc, while Sunrise is the last book in The Power of Three arc. If you remember, Honeyfern saves Briarkit from getting bitten by a snake in the hollow, but gets bitten by it herself. Her last moments were quite agonizing, and I grieve for her. Her littermates were Poppyfrost, Molekit, and Cinderheart, born of Sorreltail and Brackenfur. Molekit died, but I don't remember what from. Anyway, leave your own rating, out of five stars, out of ten, or by using an adjective like I have for the past couple entries!

"(Fireheart,) Thank you for bringing me to ThunderClan. Tell Bluestar I have always been grateful for the home she gave me. This is a good place to die. I only regret that I will miss watching you become what StarClan has destined you to be."

This is so Touching omg! Also a bit Heartbreaking, but I think I can sum it up in Meaningful. So Yellowfang dies in Rising Storm after the forest fire. She tried to save Halftail, but without success. He had breathed too much smoke. Fireheart had returned to the camp to get her, but found her, too, dying from inhaling too much smoke. She was a cranky, brave old cat till the end. RIP, Yellowfang. May StarClan light your path, which is basically you lighting your own path, as you have always done.

"You don't escape that easily!"

So Snowfur dies in Bluestar's Prophecy. Bluefur and Snowfur are out and about when they catch an invading hunting patrol of ShadowClan who had chased a squirrel across the Thunderpath. Snowfur chases them to the border, then as she is crossing the Thunderpath, she gets hit by a car. Such a tragic way to die... cries Wow I've been doing a lot of crying lately. At least it was short. I would rate it as Powerful, since those last words were a testament of her courage and loyalty. May you light your own path, Snowfur.

Snowkit died in A Dangerous Path. Technically, since Snowkit was deaf, he didn't really say much. This was the first and last mention of him saying anything at all. When the hawk carried him off, you might say his last words were a scream. Sorry, but I'd say Boring.

"You will be a great leader. One of the greatest the forest has ever known. You will have the warmth of fire to protect your Clan, and the fierceness of fire to defend it. You will be Firestar, the light of ThunderClan."

Oh, Bluestar... At least you got to say goodbye to your kits as their mother... So Bluestar dies near the end of A Dangerous Path. She finally realizes that StarClan and ThunderClan haven't turned their backs on her when she sees her clan helping one another. She rushes to help with the dogs and saves Fireheart by knocking the pack leader into the gorge. She is swept away by the current and Fireheart dives after her. Further down, Mistyfoot and Stonefur help her out. Tigerstar confronts them, but Graystripe keeps him at bay. Then, Bluefur and her kits finally share tongues and she goes to StarClan in peace, knowing Firestar will take care of her clan. And he does.

Powerful, Touching, Meaningful, and altogether beautiful...

Tallstar

[image]

Sent in by Starlingfall_Potato

"I am grateful to have brought the Clan this far. Onewhisker, treat our friends well when you lead our Clan. Remember everything ThunderClan has done for us."

Tallstar dies in the middle of Starlight from The New Prophecy arc, soon after the clan reaches their home. This is also when he appoints Onewhisker as his new deputy right before he passes. In the short manga story at the back of Tallstar's Revenge, we can see that Jake, Firestar's father and an old friend of Tallstar's when he was still Talltail, leads him up to StarClan. Tallstar lived a good long life, and he got to see their new home. If you realize, from the moment Rusty entered the forest and became Firepaw, Tallstar was already leader. From the beginning of the books up until now, Tallstar has led WindClan through many battles, triumphs, and defeats. So Tallstar was pretty old by the time of his death. As he thinks, "I've led nine good lives". It seems fitting now that in a new territory making a fresh start, Tallstar's reign ends as a new saga of the Clan life begins for WindClan with Onestar. I'd say these were pretty Meaningful last words. What do you think of them?

Tigerstar

[image]

Sent in by Starlingfall_Potato

First death: "Traitor!"

These words he uttered in The Darkest Hour as he attacked Scourge for not attacking ThunderClan and WindClan. That's when Scourge, with his claws reinforced with dog teeth, knocked Tigerstar over and ripped him open from throat to tail. It was a terrible way to die, even for him. But he would have more than deserved it for his second death.

Second death: "(The moment Bluestar found you, I became nothing! I have waited all this time to have my revenge!) When you're dead, I can rule the clans or kill them."

The reason I have the first part in parentheses is because it came from the line before, with a bit of fighting in between, before he spoke his true last words. I added it in there for some context since there really was no dialog in between. I would say that the whole phrase was technically his last words. Of course, he was killed by Firestar in The Last Hope. A fitting end, I'd say, for both of them. Firestar, indeed, ended up killing his life-long nemesis after all. Tigerstar has died his true death.

Both of the quotes I'd rate Powerful, because Tigerstar. Duh.

"How... I killed you."

Yes, Scourge, you did kill Firestar. But he came back. And Firestar proceeds to use an old trick on you by pretending to surrender, then leaping up and pinning you, ending your one life with a bite to the throat. This all happened in The Darkest Hour. I love the astonishment that I imagine on Scourge's face when he sees Firestar rise up from the dead and kill him. I'd rate this as Funny, what about you?

Hawkfrost

[image]

Sent in by Starlingfall_Potato

First Death: "Fool! Do you think I did this alone? Do you think you're safe within your own clan? Think again! (Then the whisper:) We will meet again, my brother. This is not over yet."

Brambleclaw kills Hawkfrost's body in The New Prophecy: Sunset. Hawkfrost set a trap for Firestar and he and Tigerstar were testing Brambleclaw. Either Brambleclaw could tighen the loop of the foxtrap and take Firestar's six remaining lives, or he wouldn't and have the wrath of Hawkfrost and Tigerstar fall upon him. Brambleclaw, obviosuly, chose loyalty to his leader and ThunderClan and then killed Hawkfrost by digging up the stake and driving it through his half-brother's throat, fufilling the, "Before there is peace, blood will spill blood, and the lake will run red." prophecy.

Second Death: "You're the traitor. And this time I'll kill you."

This is in The Last Hope. Hawkfrost staggers into ThunderClan and Ivypool flings herself at him, screeching, "You murderer! Liar! Betrayer!" Hawkfrost says his last words as he pins her down and prepares to finish her, but then Brambleclaw jumps in yowling, "No you won't!", and snaps Hawkfrost's neck.

Both Powerful last words, but not like in a good moving way. You can here all his bitterness, resentment, and jealousy in them. Honestly I don't feel bad for him. He deserved what he got. What do you think?

Ashfur

[image]

Sent in by Starlingfall_Potato

"I'll purr over what will happen after I've revealed the truth."

Ashfur dies in The Power of Three: Long Shadows. It's the day before the night of the full moon, the Gathering. We all know-unless you don't, in which case you shouldn't be this far in my book, much less reading it in the first place-that Ashfur found out about the truth of Jayfeather's, Hollyleaf's, and Lionblaze's birth, he's gonna ruin the clans by exposing it that night, etc. Before the Gathering, Hollyleaf is out for a walk, runs into Ashfur. They have an arguement about what the secret will do to the clans, and then Ashfur says his-assumedly- last words. The next scene in Long Shadows is when the cats are about to leave for the Gathering, Ashfur is no where to be found, and they find his dead body washed up by the edge of the creek; but from Hollyleaf's Story, we can use Hollyleaf's flashbacks and piece together what happened. After their quarrel, Ashfur stalked away into the woods. Hollyleaf followed him, and when he stopped for a drink by the stream, Hollyleaf attacked him, sinking her teeth into his throat, and killed him, knocking his body into the river in the process to be found later by the ThunderClan Gathering patrol. Now I'd call these words Strong, but if only I had added a Cruel category or an Insane-Cat-Who-Enjoys-Tearing-Lives-Apart's-Last-Words category. Although then I'd have to go back and change my rating for Tigerstar, Hawkfrost, etc. What do you think of Ashfur's last words? Post your ratings down in the comments below!

"You took your time. Always late, that's your trouble."

Mousefur dies in The Last Hope while fighting the Dark Forest cats. These words are spoken to Longtail in the Great Battle, just before a Dark Forest tom, probably Brokenstar, takes her life. She died a true warrior's death, went out with dignity, just like she wanted. I'd say these words were Touching, very very Touching, even a bit Heartbreaking because they were so heartwarmingly spoken. How would you rate them?

Whitestorm dies in The Darkest Hour in the battle against "LionClan" and BloodClan at the claws of Bone (the BloodClan deputy, if you remember). Whitestorm's words I'd say are very Meaningful, giving Firestar advice and also making it a bit Touching as well. What do you rate his words?

P.S. A quick note about the picture: First of all, the quote is a bit off in the picture. Sorreltail

[image]

Sent in by OceanKajkin

"Look!"

The last time we hear from Sorreltail is at the end of The Last Hope. It is said later in Bramblestar's Storm that she died of her wounds—which she was hiding in order to care for her kits—and the discovery of her death can be read in Dovewing's Silence. It's a Touching and Heartbreaking story, but I'm gonna go with Boring for the words themselves.

❄ Here's the one you've all been waiting for, folks! ❄

First Death: "Take care, Firepaw."

These words were spoken to Firestar (when he was still an apprentice) in Into the Wild. Spottedleaf had just revealed to Firepaw the "Fire alone can save the clan." prophecy, and was found dead later on, killed by Clawface while protecting Frostfur's kits. I'd say these words were Meaningful if you consider them as a warning to Firepaw about Tigerclaw's treachery.

Second Death: "That was never going to happen, my love. I cannot journey with you anymore. I'm so sorry."

AUGHBIUIDNWUDWN NO SPOTTEDLEAF!! Spoken toward the end of The Last Hope during the final Great Battle, Spottedleaf was killed for a final time by the vengeful spirit of Mapleshade. THIS TEARS MY HEART OPEN!! So definitely Heartbreaking for sure. And Touching. And Meaningful and Powerful...all the good ones.

Brokenstar

[image]

Sent in by OceanKajkin

First Death: "What have you done? I can't...can't feel my paws. Can't breathe..."

Yellowfang kills her own son in the Forest of Secrets by feeding him deathberries. As much as I hate Brokenstar, or Brokentail as he is at this point, I'd say this is pretty Heartbreaking. I have a question for you guys: Do you think Yellowfang was justified in killing Brokentail? To what extent do the circumstances and how she carried out the killing affect your opinion?

Second Death: "I'm going to shred you till there's nothing left to join StarClan."

This takes place in The Last Hope during the Great Battle, just as Brokenstar kills Ferncloud and threatens Firestar that he's next. Once again, Yellowfang steps in and kills her son, this time snapping his neck. I'd say these words are quite Powerful, as cruel as they may be. What do you think? Raggedstar

Sent in by OceanKajkin

"Brokentail is right." Archeye, Poolcloud, eat your fill. Frogtail, you can take out a hunting patrol and see if you can restock the fresh-kill pile."

This takes place in Yellowfang's Secret, just after Frogtail is caught by deputy Brokentail stealing prey from the elders. Raggedstar sends him out on a hunting patrol, so these probably aren't his very last words. In the next scene, Brokentail returns from a night patrol with Raggedstar, Blackwind, Scorchfur, and Boulder where Raggedstar has already been slain in a battle with WindClan... or was he? The other three didn't see it, plus Raggedstar's throat was cut with all nine lives remaining, but then again Brokentail looked pretty distraught. Besides, isn't it against the warrior code to kill? Why would WindClan want the new leader dead? Share your conspiracy theories! :D

Anyhow, the words themselves I think were Boring since they weren't his actual last words. Leave your rating down below!

Nightstar

[image]

Sent in by OceanKajkin

"How did he die?"

These last words were spoken in Rising Storm at the last Gathering Nightstar attended, so obviously they were not his last. At the time, Nightstar was already old, and soon after caught the deadly disease of the Carrionplace from a rat brought back by an apprentice, according to Littlecloud and Whitethroat. The words were spoken when he asked of Bluestar how Brokentail died, which I think makes them powerful since this is the last time we see Nightstar asserting his power as a leader. When he dies... Tigerstar takes over..... grumbles

You know, I think that take-over has some notable comparisons to Nazi Germany, no? I mean, Germany got hit hard by the Treaty of Versailles and the Great Depression and that's when Hitler came in to "save the day". Yeah? Anyone?

These last words were spoken in Bramblestar's Storm during a Gathering, and the next we hear about Blackstar he is dead, losing his ninth life to the storm, like many others, that began Bramblestar's leadership. (I wonder if this means there's climate change happening in the clans too.) Even considering they weren't his true last words, they still represent Blackstar's strong leadership and assertiveness. Flametail

[image]

Sent in by Stormfire01

Last words: "Keep up with me!"
Last thoughts: It's hopeless. The ice has blocked us in.

As many of you may know, Flametail's death was saddening indeed. He was playing a game, similar to ice hockey, on the frozen lake with his ShadowClan mates in Night Whispers when suddenly the ice gave way, like in Flametail's dream, and he drowned. Jayfeather dove in after him, but Rock made him turn back when Jayfeather was unable to save Flametail. Of course, then Jayfeather was blamed for the death of Flametail until they were able to find him in StarClan and hear the truth.

His last spoken words were to his teammate Olivenose as they closed in on the "prey-hole" with the "prey stone". When Pinepaw flung it away across the ice, Flametail rushed out after it and fell through the ice. I'd say his words were Powerful because they were confident, but his last words were Heartbreaking and Touching. What do you guys think?

Russetfur

"It's our land now."

Ahhh, the old territory dispute between ThunderClan and ShadowClan. These last words come from Fading Echoes, and though they are not likely Deputy Russetfur's last words, they are the last we hear of her before Lionblaze kills her in battle. Little too much battle haze, Lionblaze... Honestly, who needs that stupid clearing anyway? It's just a Twoleg camping ground. I'd rate these words as both Powerfully delivered and a Boring end to Russetfur's life.

Swiftpaw

"Don't worry, there's nothing here!"

Swiftpaw's death comes at a time where Bluestar was losing her faith in StarClan and in her clanmates. There was another ThunderClan-RiverClan battle over Sunningrocks (the same one where Graystripe returned from RiverClan and Mistyfoot and Stonefur found out Bluestar was their mother)and Fireheart asked Swiftpaw to go back to ThunderClan and get help, to which Swiftpaw's response, and his last words in A Dangerous Path, are, "But I want to fight!" Later on, Bluestar refuses to make Swiftpaw and the others warriors, only Cloudpaw. Furious, Swiftpaw and Brightpaw sneak out to check out who's stealing ThunderClan's prey near Snakerocks and prove themselves worthy of being warriors to Bluestar. Tragic, I know, and I hate Bluestar for that. The dog pack that made their den under Snakerocks get the best of the young cats, killing Swiftpaw and giving Brightpaw the grievous wound to her right eye that temporarily gives her the name Lostface.

The Into The Wild arc doesn't say this explicitly, but I found a little gem in Warriors: Secrets of the Clans, where Brightheart recounts that terrible night, and this is where I discovered Swiftpaw's true last words. Heartbreaking, aren't they, considering that in the next moments the dogs emerge and tear him up. At least his death was swift..... No? Okay, nevermind.....

Leave a rating down below! If you like my book, don't forget to smash that Vote star! .....with your mouse, don't actually smash your computer. That would be bad.... Anyway, peace out :)

Moonflower

[image]

Sent in by Starlingfall_Potato

"Hurry!"

These are the last words we see Moonflower speak in Chapter 8 of Bluestar's Prophecy. However, as she doesn't actually die until the next chapter, these are unlikely her true last words. In the scene, Pinestar is leading an ill-fated attack against WindClan due to the fact that Goosefeather received a prophecy telling him they must destroy the WindClan's medicine supply for ThunderClan to survive (though this prophecy is contested by the other warriors). Moonflower gets assigned to raid the medicine den, but is quickly overwhelmed by the medicine cat, Hawkheart, and killed in front of her kits, Bluepaw and Snowpaw.

These words are spoken to the aforementioned kits while Moonflower's patrol is crossing the stream at the border of WindClan territory. In rating these words, I could take the easy route out and say they're boring, but they are actually kind of meaningful when you think about them in the greater context. Bluepaw later mourns the fact that she and Snowpaw didn't even get to wish their mother good luck or goodbye, and the fact that these are the last words Moonflower speaks to them says a lot about her dedication as a warrior and even foreshadows her imminent death, if you squint at it a bit.

And with that, welcome back to my book! After a long hiatus, I decided to drop another chapter just to have it under my belt. As always, what do you guys think about these words? I'm hoping this will prove to be an interesting discussion...

Goldenflower

[image]

Sent in by Starlingfall_Potato

"Then maybe StarClan can tell us what to do about the traps!"

Goldenflower is actually one of the lucky few warriors who was able to live out her life in its entirety and die peacefully from old age. The mate of Tigerstar and mother of Bramblestar and Tawnypelt, Goldenflower has been there since before Firestar arrived in ThunderClan, living through Tigerstar's reign of terror, the Great Journey, and the beginnings of the Clans' new lives by the Lake Territories.

According to the Wikia, Goldenflower died between the end of Sunset (The New Prophecy) and the beginning of The Sight (Power of Three). The next time we hear from her is in StarClan when she comes to give her son Bramblestar one of his nine lives as the next leader of ThunderClan. Thus, Goldenflower's true last words are unknown, but, nevertheless, I have provided you above with the last words she speaks in Sunset.

These words come from Chapter 5 when the Clan members are discussing what to do about the Twoleg fox traps that have been set around their forest. (These are the same traps that are used later against Firestar when Hawkfrost is trying to get Brambleclaw to kill his leader.) Obviously, these words are nowhere close to Goldenflower's real last words, so I'll give you guys two bonus quotes:

"I've served my clan for a long time, and it's nice to finally have some peace and quiet. I hope I get to stick around and enjoy it for many moons to come." – Goldenflower on becoming an elder, Secrets of the Clans

"I am so proud of you, my love. And so honored to give you this life. I give you the life for understanding the love of a mother. But then, you have already known what it is to love as a father. Keep that knowledge, feel its power, and use it to keep all of your Clanmates safe." — Goldenflower to Bramblestar during his leadership ceremony, Warriors: The Ultimate Guide

Feel free to rate any and all of these quotes!

Oakheart

[image]

Sent in by Starlingfall_Potato

" No ThunderClan cat will ever harm that warrior. "

Oakheart died before Firestar joined the clans in a battle between RiverClan and ThunderClan over Sunningrocks. He was part of a big conspiracy that Tigerstar, then Tigerclaw, brewed up in order to kill Redtail and take over ThunderClan's deputyship. These last words were revealed by Ravenpaw in Chapter 2 of Forest of Secrets as he explains the circumstances around Redtail's death to Firestar (then Fireheart) and Graystripe. According to him, Redtail was fighting with Stonefur and Oakheart came in to rescue his son, saying his last words as he did. Redtail backed him into a corner, trapping him under a rockslide which ultimately killed him. I think these words are pretty Powerful—I can just imagine Oakheart rushing in wildly with the strength of a father's love, defending the kit of his one true love, Bluestar. It's also Meaningful in that way, since these words run deeper than Redtail or anyone else knows.

Crookedstar

Sent in by Starlingfall_Potato

" I've had a good life. A good nine lives, in fact. I've achieved everything I wanted, and there are some old friends I've been longing to see."

We did Oakheart—we have to do his brother Crookedstar now! 😈 Like Goldenflower, Crookedstar is one of the lucky few who lived out his entire life, although whether you consider that good or bad luck depends. If you haven't read Crookedstar's Promise, you should! It tells his entire life story from kit to leader, the incident that gave him the name Crookedjaw, his troubles with Mapleshade, ascendence to leadership, and his peaceful death at the end of a long and troubled life. I'd say these words, although a bit Boring, are also Touching considering everything he's been through. What say you? Comment down below!

Runningwind

[image]

Sent in by Starlingfall_Potato

" Look out ."

Runningwind died in Chapter 15 of Rising Storm, but it was not revealed that he died to Tigerstar's claws until Chapter 6 of Tigerclaw's Fury. Tigerstar, then Tigerclaw was out patrolling with ShadowClan and spotted Runningwind leading his own patrol. Without warning, he attacked the small brown tom and killed him; Runningwind didn't even have time to utter any words. Thus, the last words he spoke are lost, but these are the last words he speaks in Rising Storm. They are addressed to Fireheart as a good-natured warning after Darkstripe goes to Bluestar and tells on Cloudpaw for deserting ThunderClan to live with the Twolegs. This is not the last time Fireheart sees Runningwind, but since we are limited to Fireheart's perspective, we do not get to learn Runnignwind's true last words, which were probably spoken to Mousefur or Thornpaw who were out patrolling with him when Tigerclaw attacked. Honestly, I'd rate these as Boring, but it is rather interesting for me to go digging up all this info about the warrior cats.

As always, comment down below about anything and everything to do with Runningwind's death!

Stonefur

[image]

Sent in by Starlingfall_Potato

"You'll have to kill me first, Tigerstar!"

Stonefur's death came about during and due to the of the rise of TigerClan, in chapter 15 of The Darkest Hour. Tigerstar gathered the RiverClan and ShadowClan cats around his "bone hill" to watch as he tried to force the half-clan cats to battle each other to the death. He directed Stonefur to kill Graystripe's kits to prove his loyalty to TigerClan, in the clear sightline of the hidden Firestar, Ravenpaw, and Graystripe himself, I might add. When Stonefur refused, leading to these words, Tigerstar set Darkstripe and Blackstar (at the time, Blackfoot) on the poor RiverClan warrior whose only fault was that his parents were from two different bloodlines. I'd rate these last words as Powerful as his last stance against oppression was!

Let me know down in the comments what your thoughts are, and as always, be sure to give me new last word suggestions in the first chapter of this book!

Badgerfang

[image]

Sent in by PrincessPoppit

"I'd like to be called Badgerfang. Like you, because you were such a great mentor."

Poor Badgerfang was only three moons old when he met his end, revealed in a bonus story from Code of the Clans which took place during Yellowfang's Secret. Brokenstar was at the height of his power, forcing kits into an early apprenticeship and making them fight in the battle that drove WindClan off the moors. Badgerfang's mentor Flintfang was with him when he died and gave Badgerfang his warrior name before he passed on to StarClan, reassuring him that he fought very bravely and would be remembered. After this Heartbreaking and Touching moment, Flintfang swore to no longer train kits for the cruel ShadowClan leader.

What do you think of Badgerfang's last words? Let me know your opinions in the comments below, and don't forget to vote if you liked this chapter! Also, I only have ten more last words requests in my queue, including this one, so if you want to see this book continue, keep sending me requests in the first chapter! Thanks, y'all!

Dustpelt

[image]

Sent in by Swiftfeather_WC

" That is not where I want to be. Thank you, Bramblestar, for everything. May StarClan light your path, always ."

Dustpelt meets a warrior's end in Bramblestar's Storm after coming to ShadowClan's rescue alongside ThunderClan to drive away the invading badgers. As he lays beaten and torn on the scene of the battle, he tells Bramblestar he doesn't want to join the elders. Instead, he passes in peace and is met by his mate Ferncloud and several of his deceased children who lead him up to StarClan. Bramblestar notes that Dustpelt was never happy after his mate died and now the celebrated and long-lived warrior can find true happiness with Ferncloud again in StarClan.

I think this is Heartbreaking but also Touching because Dustpelt can finally be at peace with Ferncloud. As readers, we watched him grow up since he was practically a kit with Firestar, and he outlived the great leader to see the next generation of ThunderClan before finally coming to rest in StarClan.

What do you think of these words? Let me know down in the comments below! I'm still working through a backlog of last words, but if you think of any more, please request them in the first chapter of this book!
